Febuary 26, 1897.

Superintendent, U. S. Mint,
Philadelphia, Penna.

Sir:

You will please cause to be prepared and forwarded to this Bureau a set of National Medals and Proof Coins for exhibition at the Tennessee Centennial to be held at Nashville, Tennessee.

You will be reimbursed for the medals at cost and for the proof coins at their face value. It is very desirable that these medals and coins be furnished without delay.

Respectfully yours,
R. E. Preston,
Director of the Mint.

February 26, 1897.

To the Honorable
Secretary of the Treasury.

Sir:

I have the honor to transmit herewith fourteen (14) gold and two (2) silver medals, as requested to be struck, per your letters of the second, tenth and fifteenth instant.

I also enclose herewith the account of the Superintendent of the Mint for these medals, mounting, cases and express charges, amounting in the aggregate to three hundred eight-eight dollars and forty-five cents ($388.45), for which I will thank you to cause a draft to be transmitted as early as practicable.

Please acknowledge receipt of the medals to this Bureau.

Respectfully yours,
R. E. Preston,
Director of the Mint.

Sir:

In answer to your inquiry of the 19th instant, relative to the consumption of gold and silver in the Industrial Arts in the World and the United States, since 1878, I have to reply that the figures as printed on page 38, Production Report of 1895. (referred to by you), are correct. The apparent difference between the amounts on page 38 and those on pp. 46 and 49 is explained by deducting the amount of "Old Material" consumed from the totals. The amounts for the World pp. 46 and 49,- being the new material only consumed.

The following table is an estimate of the World's consumption including the United States for the years 1893, '4 and '5:-

Year.	Gold.	Silver. (Coining value).
1893.	$50,177,300	27,554,280
1894.	52,183,783	33,340,681
1895.	58,579,160	41,388,052

I am unable to furnish figures for the World, previous to 1893, and for the United States previous to 1880.

Very respectfully,
R. E. Preston,
Director of the Mint.

Sir:

In reply to your letter of the 23rd instant, you are respectfully informed that there were no gold pieces of the denomination of twenty-five or fifty cents struck at the Mints of the United States.

Some years ago, jewelers in San Francisco issued pieces which were called quarters and halves. The quarter contained about eight cents worth of gold and the half about twelve cents worth.

Respectfully yours,
R. E. Preston,
Director of the Mint.

Sir:

I have received your letter of the 27th of February in explanation of difference in the figures reporting the amount of domestic production during the calendar year ended December 31, 1896, as shown by the statements rendered monthly by your institution.

I have compared the aggregate of your 12 monthly statements with your report for the year and the difference was shown on your annual statement returned in my letter of the 20th ultimo, which figures are correct and the errors to which you call attention instead of being made by the compilation in this Bureau were made by your Office in reporting on your annual statement the amount of refined bullion deposited during the 12 months, while as such returns were made the Bureau prior to May 1896, as clearly shown by your letter of the above date and the memorandum enclosed therein.

Referring to your letter of the 26th ultimo, in reference to having a pair of dies made for the purpose of testing alluminum alloys suitable for making coins, I would say this work cannot be done by the Mint, as under the law, Section 3551 of Revised Statutes, it expressly provides that "no private dies shall be prepared at any mint, or the machinery or apparatus thereof be used for that purpose." There is, however, no objection to arranging with the engraver of the Mint to do this work in his private capacity, which he would have to do outside of his regular office hours.

Sir:-

I have to reply to your favor of the 3rd instant, as follows: The amount of silver purchased under the Act of February 28th 1878, commonly known as the "Bland Bill" was 291,272,018.56 fine ounces, costing $308,279,260.71. The number of silver dollars coined under the same Act was 378,166,793.

The amount of silver purchased under the Act of July 14th, 1890, was 168,674,682.53 fine ounces, costing $155,931,002.23. The number of silver dollars coined under the Act of July 14th 1890 to March 1st 1897, was 63,073,016. The balance of silver bullion now in the Treasury purchased under the Act of July 14th 1890, is 119,827,991.26 fine ounces, costing $108,208,996.63; the coining value of the same in silver dollars being $154,929,120.

The Secretary of the Treasury has the right to coin at his discretion such quantity of the silver bullion purchased under the Act of July 14th 1890, as he may deem necessary, to provide for the redemption of Treasury Notes issued in payment of such bullion.

When the notes issued in payment of the bullion purchased under the Act of July 14th 1890 are redeemed in silver dollars, they are cancelled in accordance with the terms of the Act.

The number of silver dollars now in the Treasury is 391,020.85 of this number $364,152,327 are held for the redemption of outstanding certificates and $9,457,048 for the redemption of Treasury Notes issued under the Act of July 14th 1890.

The stock of gold coin in the country on the first instant, is estimated to have been $655,672,000. In the absence of the final figures, I estimate the World's product for 1896 to have aggregated $218,000,000. I believe that the product of gold will continue to increase for a number of years to come. The price of gold seldom varies from its coining value. The coining value of an ounce of pure gold twenty-five years ago was the same as it is today, viz: $20.67-

R. E. Preston,
Director of the Mint.

Sir:-

Your letter of the 1st instant received. In reply I would respectfully submit the following:-

The motto, "In God we Trust" upon the coins of our Mints was never withdrawn by any specific Act, but it was simply omitted in the Revised Statutes.

I forward you by to-day's mail, copies of the Proceedings of the Annual Assay Commission, from 1882 to 1896, inclusive. At the sitting of the Commission in 1883, one of the gold coins of the New Orleans Mint was found to be seven-hundredths of a thousand below the limit of deviation in fineness. Since that date the Commission have found no coin varying either as to weight or fineness, below or above the deviation allowed by law. Our coins compare very closely to the standard fixed by law, as you will observe by an examination of these reports.

Prior to 1874, all the blanks or planchetts for the minor coinage were prepared in the Mints, but owing to the large coinage of Trade dollars, authorized by the Act of 1873, and the subsidiary silver, authorized by the Redemption Act of January 14th 1875, it was found impracticable to prepare the blanks for this coinage in the Mint at Philadelphia, to which it is confined by law, and since then the blanks have been procured by contract from outside manufacturers.

There are now employed in the several Mints and Assay Offices of the United States, 900 persons, the largest number, about 400, being employed at the Mint in Philadelphia.

Respectfully yours,
R. E. Preston,
Director of the Mint.

Referring to your letter of the 8th instant, explaining error in price of copper caps for annealing canisters, I have to say that, under the circumstances, you are authorized to pay the additional eight (.08) cents each for the forty-eight (48) caps delivered amounting to three dollars, eighty-four cents ($3.84). I would suggest that in the future greater care be used in transmitting bids to this Bureau for approval.

Respectfully yours,
R. E. Preston,
Director of the Mint.

Senor Don. J. B. Calvo,
Minister Resident, Costa Rica,
No. 1509 Twentieth Street,
Washington, D.C.

Sir:

I have the honor to submit the following, in reply to the inquiries contained in your letter of the sixth instant:-

1.- What is the exact weight in grammes of one ounce of standard gold in the Mint?

The exact weight in grammes of an ounce of standard gold is 31.1042 grammes.

2.- If a standard gold ounce does not give in the cut coins the price at which it is quoted, what is the reason this price exceeds its actual product?

It does give the price at which it is quoted, and does not exceed the actual product.

3.- Does the Mint make an extra charge for cutting the Colones and what is this charge per standard ounce?

The charge is made for rolling, annealing, cutting, adjusting, milling and cleaning the planchettes, the expense of these different operations being included in the former estimate sent you.

4.- The estimate of 75 ounces waste in a million dollars being very high, how much can it be reduced; and should it be less than the estimate, will the Mint recognize the difference?

The amount of gold necessary to be operated upon to produce one million dollars is about 106,000 ounces; the legal allowance on which for the Melter and Refiner and Coiner in their operations is 159 ounces. The estimate of 75 ounces wastage is therefore less than fifty percent. This estimate may be reduced to twenty-five percent of the legal allowance or say forty ounces.

5.- Can the Mint proceed at once to prepare the 10 Colones pieces, and in what time will it deliver 50,000 of these pieces, or 500,000 Colones?

The Mint could deliver 50,000 pieces within two weeks after the receipt of the order.

6.- Can the Mint prepare other coins as follows:

50,000 for the 20 Colones coins,
200,000 for the 10 Colones coins,
100,000 for the 5 Colones coins,
250,000 for the 2 Colones coins, and in case of there being a limit what will it be per year?

The Mint could prepare planchetts for the amount of the coins above specified, say within three months.

7.- In the event of securing this service, how much notice should be given the Mint each time the preparation of the said coins is desired?

One weeks notice would be ample.

Trusting that the foregoing will be satisfactory, I am,

Very respectfully,
R. E. Preston,
Director of the Mint.

Sir:

On the first instant, the House of Representatives and the Senate passed a Resolution providing for the printing of 10,000 copies of the Report of the Director of the Mint for 1896, and 3,000 copies of the Report of the Director of the Mint on the Production of the Precious Metals for the year 1895; also 5,000 copies of the Coinage Laws of the United States.

I have the honor to transmit herewith copy of the report for the fiscal year 1896, and report on the production of the Precious Metals for the calendar year 1895, also copy of the laws relating to the coinage.

I would state that there are many applications on file for the reports that I am unable to fill, and it is very desirable that additional copies authorized by the Resolution, be printed as early as practicable.

Sir:-

Your letter of the 25th ultimo to the Hon. W. E. Chandler, has been referred to this Bureau, and you are respectfully informed that the table on page 436 of the Coinage Laws of the United States fourth edition, 1894, referred to by you, was compiled in 1839 at the suggestion of the then Secretary of the Treasury Hon. Samuel D. Ingham, by Mr. John White, Cashier of the United States Bank at Baltimore. Mr. White does not explain on what principles he constructed the table. He simply gives the authority for his figures in a very general way, and we are left to our own resources to find out what value he ascribed in silver to the Castile marc; what ratio between gold and silver was implied in his calculations, and consequently what he reckoned the Castile marc at in gold. He does not even state whether the dollar mentioned in the table is the United States dollar or a Spanish dollar. If it is a United States gold dollar, its fine weight at this date was 24 3/4 grains, and its legal weight, 27 grains. I am, however, inclined to think that the dollars used by Mr. White, in his table are Spanish, and not American dollars; eight and one-half of these Spanish dollars could be coined from the Castilian marco or marc, so that the value of the Castilian marc of silver must be taken at $8.50; of the Castilian marc of gold at $ 16 being the ratio of gold to silver, which White seems to have adopted in his calcula

I do not see clearly how this ratio c

Sir:

Referring to your letter of the 10th instant, enclosing letter from the Assayer recommending the temporary appointment for sixty days of Mr. William Runyon in his Department, I would thank you to inform me whether the present appropriation of your Institution are sufficient to admit of the employment of Mr. Runyon.

I am aware that the assays of the imported ores impose a great deal of extra work upon the Assay Department of your office, and I have been considering the propriety of having the samples sent and the assays made in the laboratory attached to this Bureau, the Assayer being of the opinion that he would be able to do the work without requiring any additional help, but before finally deciding the matter I would like you to advise me as to the state of your appropriations for wages.

Referring to your letter of the 8th instant, in reference to the appointment of Henry Hamel of Syracuse to the position in the Assay Office in New York City, you are respectfully informed that all the positions in that Institution are now embraced in the classified service, under the order issued by the President under date of May 6th 1896. There are, however, two vacancies in that Institution for which examinations will be held shortly by the Civil Service Commission. I would advise that Mr. Hamel make application for examination.

But for the fact that these positions have to be filled through the Civil Service Commission, I should have no hesitancy whatever in approving the appointment of Mrs. Hamel.

Similar letter, to:

John Daggett, Esq.,
Superintendent Mint U. S.,
San Francisco, Cal.

March 20, 1897.

To the Honorable
Secretary of the Treasury.

Sir:

The coinage of silver dollars from bullion purchased under the Act of July fourteenth 1890, which had been suspended by direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, June 30th, 1895, was resumed by his direction February 1st 1896. At this date there were held by the Treasury 13,322,928 silver dollars for the redemption of Treasury Notes.

From February 1st 1896. to March 1st 1897, there were coined by the Mints 23,028,762 silver dollars. Of this number 15,867,917 represented the cost of the bullion, and the remainder 7,160,845, the profit or seigniorage on said coinage.

From the daily statement of this date showing the condition of the Treasury of the United States, it appears that there are now held for the redemption of Treasury Notes issued under the Act of July fourteenth 1890. 10,116,048 silver dollars.

The amount, cost and coining value of the balance of silver bullion purchased under the Act of July fourteenth 1890, on hand at the respective Mints March first, was as follows:

over.

Mints.	Fine Ounces.	Cost.	Coining value in Silver dollars.
Philadelphia	110,583,164.08	$100,091,562.86	142,976,212.13
San Francisco.	5,765,751.45	5,163,046.53	7,454,708.93
New Orleans	2,911,094.26	2,499,675.69	3,763,839.04
Carson	567,981.47	454,710.95	734,359.87
Total	119,827,991.26	108,208,996.03	154,929,119.97

The balance on hand at the Mint at San Francisco, will be reduced in March, by the coinage of $800,000, and at the Mint at New Orleans, by the coinage of $500,000 to $600,000.

The coinage of silver dollars being subject to the control of the Secretary of the Treasury, it is very desirable to be advised as to whether it is your desire to continue the coinage or not, and also the extent to which such coinage shall be made.

The only material on hand at the Mint at New Orleans, is the silver bullion purchased under the Act of July fourteenth, 1890, and if the coinage should be suspended it will be necessary to furlough the larger portion of the force employed there and also to reduce to some extent the force employed at the San Francisco Mint.

No coinage has been made at the Carson Mint since May 1893.

The Philadelphia Mint has an ample stock of gold bullion and of silver bullion, resulting from the melting of worn and uncurrent silver coins transferred from the Treasury for recoinage, to keep its force employed.

Very respectfully,
R. E. Preston,
Director of the Mint.

Sir:

Referring to your letter of the 13th instant, in regard to the value given the gold doubloon in use in Cuba, viz: $5.017 in the Circular "Value of Foreign Coins", I would say that the monetary system of Cuba is the same as that of Spain. As a matter of fact, however, accounts were kept in the Colonies in pesetas of eight Reals.

The weight and fineness of the principal gold coin in circulation in Cuba are as follows:

Spanish Quadruple Onza of the weight of 417.590 grains, 895 fine, containing 365.390 grains of pure gold. Value in U. S. gold coin, being $15.736.

The Doubloon Isabella, weight 129.538 grains, fineness 900; weight of pure gold contained in same, 116.580 grains; value in U. S. gold coin $5.017.

Alphonse (25 pesetas) 124.451 grains; fineness 900; contains 112 grains of pure gold; value in U.S. gold coin, $4.823.

Section 25 of the Act of August 27th, 1894, under which the value of foreign coins is estimated by the Director of the Mint, is as follows:-

"That the value of foreign coin as expressed in the money of account of the United States shall be that of the pure metal of such coin of standard value; and the values of the standard coins in circulation of the various nations of the World shall be estimated quarterly by the Director of the Mint, and be proclaimed by the Secretary of the Treasury immediately after the passage of this Act and thereafter quarterly on the first day of January, April, July and October in each year. And the values so proclaimed shall be followed in estimating the value of all foreign merchandise exported to the United States during the quarter for which the value is proclaimed, and the date of the consular certification of any invoice shall for the purposes of this section be considered the date of exportation: Provided, That the Secretary of the Treasury may order the reliquidation of any entry at a different value, whenever satisfactory evidence shall be produced to him showing that the value in United States currency of the foreign money specified in the invoice was, at the date of certification, at least ten percentum more or less than the value proclaimed during the quarter in which the consular certification occurred."

RG104 E-235 Vol 82

From the foregoing you will readily observe that all the Director of the Mint has to do in estimating the value of the coins is to estimate them according to the pure metal contained in the same.

Respectfully yours,
R. E. Preston,
Director of the Mint.

March 24, 1897.

To the Honorable
Secretary of the Treasury.

Sir:

Before estimating the value of foreign coins to be proclaimed on the first day of April, I respectfully submit for your consideration a few points relative to the principal or full legal tender silver coins or monies of certain countries, especially of India, Russia and Tripoli.

It has occurred to me that it would be advisable in the next circular of the value of foreign coins, not to estimate the value of the Indian rupee, but to leave the space therefor blank, and append thereto a note to the effect that the value of that coin shall be determined in accordance with the consular certificates attached to invoices of merchandise from India; in other words, that the Indian rupee shall be hereafter treated by the Department as a depreciated currency. My reasons for considering this course advisable are given below.

The full text of the law relating to the estimating and proclaiming of the value of foreign coins at present in force, (Act of August 28th 1894, Section 25,) is as follows:

"That the value of foreign coin as expressed in the money of account of the United States shall be that of the pure metal of such coin of standard value; and the values of the standard coins in circulation of the various nations of the World shall be estimated quarterly by the Director of the Mint, and be proclaimed by the Secretary of the Treasury immediately after the passage of this Act and thereafter quarterly on the first day of January, April, July and October in each year. And the values so proclaimed shall be followed in estimating the value of all foreign merchandise exported to the United States during the quarter for which the value is proclaimed and the date of the consular certification of any invoice shall, for the purpose of this section, be considered the date of exportation:

Provided, The Secretary of the Treasury may order the reliquidation of any entry at a different value, whenever satisfactory evidence shall be produced to him showing that the value in United States currency of the foreign money specified in the invoice was, at the date of certification, at least ten percentum more or less than the value proclaimed during the quarter in which the consular certification occurred."

When the Director of the Mint has estimated the values of the standard coins of the various countries at that of the pure metal they contain, he has done all that the law requires him to do in the premises. But when the following of the strict letter of the statute involves ascribing to the coins of a country a value greatly inferior to their actual value, it is certainly proper that attention should be called thereto.

When the free coinage of silver is suspended in a country having the single silver standard, the value of the full legal tender silver coins of such country is very apt to acquire, in its inland trade, a value greater than that of the pure metal they contain.

The rupee of India is at present, a case illustrative of this. Up to the 26th of June 1893, the coinage of silver was free. Since the closing of the Indian Mints on that day to the coinage of silver on private account, the gold value of the silver rupee has always been greater than that of the pure metal in the coin. It is now over thirty percent. higher than the market price of the pure metal in the rupee.

Such being the case it does not seem proper that the Director of the Mint should estimate its value and the Secretary of the Treasury proclaim it as that of the market value of the pure metal it contains, although in doing so both are only obeying the letter of the law. The real value of the Indian rupee is determined by its price in London, but the Director of the Mint has no authority to calculate its value in accordance with that price.

Under circumstances like those just described, although not exactly similar, I have in the past represented to the Department, when called upon for an expression of opinion on the subject, that the metallic currency of the country in question, should be treated by the Department as a depreciated currency, and that the regulations of the Department governing the calculation of the value of invoices expressed in such currency, should be made in accordance with the value given it in the consular certificates attached to these invoices. At the present time, the silver rupee of India may be looked upon as a depreciated currency, since prior to the beginning of the decline of the price of silver, the Indian rupee had a value of forty-seven cents and four mills in the money of account of the United States. Hence the suggestion made above that, in the circular of the value of foreign coins to be issued April 1st 1897, the space for the value of the Indian rupee be left blank, and that a note be appended, stating that the value of the same shall be determined in accordance with the consular certificates, attached to invoices from the ports of British India.

A question also arises with respect to the Russian rouble. That country has long had a depreciated currency, but it is now preparing to adopt the gold standard. It may be said to have even now the gold standard, since the paper roubles or bills of credit of Russia, sometimes called also silver roubles, had a fixed value in gold. Until recently, the value of the paper rouble was a fluctuating one. It has long been the custom of the Director of the Mint to calculate, and of the Secretary of the Treasury to proclaim, the value of the rouble as equal to that of the pure silver in it, although the value of the invoices from that country has for some years past been estimated in accordance with the value ascribed to the rouble in the consular certificates attached to such invoices. Of late, however, an Imperial ukase has declared that one and one-half paper roubles shall be equal to one gold rouble, or to fifty-one cents and four mills in the money of account of the United States. By a ukase of January 3rd 1897, the Russian Minister of Finance was directed to cause to be coined, imperials and half-imperials, bearing as an indication of their price in paper, the former fifteen roubles, and the latter seven roubles, fifty copecks, and to place these coins in circulation as soon as manufactured.

If the silver rouble were as heretofore, valued at that of the pure metal it contains, it would be greatly undervalued.

The difference between the value given it by Imperial ukase, and the present market value of the silver in it, is fully thirty percent., it now having a fixed gold value equal to fifty one cents, and four mills.

I would respectfully recommend that, for the present, the course suggested in the case of the Indian rupee be also followed in that of the Russian rouble. There seems to be no good reason for officially estimating these coins so much below their value, if it can be legally avoided.

On the circular of the value of foreign coins issued January 1, 1897, the mahbub of Tripoli was not mentioned, and I shall omit calculating its value in the future unless you instruct me to the contrary.

The rule prescribed by the Statute cannot be applied to the valuation of the Tripoli mahbub, because it is not a real coin. Neither the mahbub itself nor any of its multiples is stamped. It is simply a money of account said to be equal to 20 Tripoli piasters. But the Tripoli piaster is not equal to the Turkish piaster, and like the mahbub has no actual existence. The value of the pure metal in the mahbub cannot be estimated, because it contains none.

The intrinsic value of the Tripoli piaster is regulated by the course of the gold medjidie at Constantinople. In October 1893, the parities in Tripoli were as follows:

Turkish pound — —	117 Tripoli piasters.
Medjidie — — —	21½ piasters.
20-franc piece — —	102 piasters.
Pound Sterling — —	127½ piasters.

Calculating the value of the mahbub of 20 Tripoli piasters according to that ascribed to it above in pounds sterling, would give it a value of 76 cents and 3 mills in the money of account of the United States.

By taking the Turkish pound as above equal to 117 Tripoli piasters, and £100 equal to 110.05 Turkish pounds, (the Constantinople rate of exchange on London, March 13th), the parity is reached of 128.76 Tripoli piasters equal to £1 equal to $4.8665; whence 20 Tripoli piasters or one mahbub equal to 75 cents and 7 mills, which is about its present value.

For the reasons just stated, I discontinued the estimation of the value of the Tripoli mahbub.

Lastly I would respectfully suggest as worthy of your consideration, - when Russia, Japan and India containing a population over thirty-one percent of the population of the Globe, are on the eve of going over to a gold standard, and when apart from China, where silver has always passed by tare and not by tale, only Bolivia, part of Central America, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, Mexico and Persia continue to have a silver currency, - whether it would not be better to treat the currency of all single silver standard countries as depreciated currencies, and to have the value of their full legal tender coins determined for custom purposes by the consular certificates attached to invoices of merchandise from such countries. By considering them as depreciated currencies their exact value at the time of shipment could be determined, whereas by the present mode of valuation it can be determined only approximately. Besides, by considering the currencies of all single silver standard countries as depreciated currencies and estimating their values accordingly, uniformity would be introduced into the method of calculating their values, a uniformity which it now lacks.

Respectfully yours,
R. E. Preston,
Director of the Mint.

Sir:

Your letter of the 18th instant to the Hon. John Sherman has been referred to this Bureau, and in reply you are respectfully informed that individuals are not permitted to deposit silver bullion at the Mints for coinage, but for return in fine bars only.

Every silver dollar coined by the Mints contains 371 1/4 grains of pure silver; at the average price paid by the Government for silver purchased under the Act of July 14th, 1890, ($0.92.44) the cost of the silver contained in the silver dollar would be ($0.71 1/2) giving the Government a profit or seigniorage of 28 1/2 cents on each dollar coined.

Silver certificates are issued only upon the deposits of silver dollars, dollar for dollar, and redeemable only in silver dollars.

Respectfully yours,
R. E. Preston,
Director of the Mint.

Sir:

Your letter of the 17th instant to the Hon. J. C. Bell has been referred to this Bureau and in reply you are respectfully informed that there has been forwarded you by today's mail a copy of Department

Circular No. 123, which will give you the amount of silver coinage to September 1st, 1896. I enclose herewith a statement showing the coinage for the calendar year 1896, also for the months of January and February 1897.

By direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, the coinage of silver dollars was suspended June 1st, 1895, and was resumed on February 1st, 1896. At present silver dollars are being coined by the Mints at New Orleans and San Francisco, while the Mint at Philadelphia is coining gold and subsidiary silver.

Respectfully yours,
R. E. Preston,
Director of the Mint.

Sir:

Your letter of the 18th instant to the Comptroller of the Currency has been referred to this Bureau, and in reply I have to respectfully submit the following as to the actual circulation of the standard silver dollars during the last four years, and at present: I have taken the number in actual circulation November 1st, of each year, as it has been found that the largest number were in circulation about this date, and which is as follows:

Date.	Population.	Silver dollars in circulation.	Per capita.
November 1, 1893	67,426,000	58,725,818	0.87
" 1, 1894	68,887,000	56,443,670	0.82
" 1, 1895	70,378,000	58,354,092	0.83
" 1, 1896	71,902,000	58,190,802	0.81
March 1, 1897	72,418,800	55,378,762	0.76

I would remark that the largest number of silver dollars ever in circulation at any given time was on November 1st, 1890, viz: 65,709,564, at which date the estimate of the population of the United States was 63,200,000, which would give a per capita of silver dollars in circulation of $1.04.

Trusting that the foregoing will be satisfactory I am,

Respectfully yours,

R. E. Preston,

Director of the Mint.

Sir:

In reply to your letter of the 25th instant, you are respectfully informed that the first edition of the report of the Director of the Mint for the fiscal year 1896, consisted of one thousand copies, five hundred of which were sent to Senators and Members of the House of Representatives, the remainder being entirely inadequate to supply the demand for the same. A new edition is now being printed and as soon as received, a copy will be mailed you.

In regard to the rate at which our silver coins are received abroad, I would say that it is probable that the silver dollars of the United States would be bought by brokers and bankers in London, Paris and Berlin at from ninety-six to ninety-seven cents per piece, as they could be returned to this country, and placed in circulation on a parity with gold.

Sir:

Referring to your letter of the 12th instant, enclosing a copy of a petition from the adjusters in the Mint at New Orleans, in which they complain of having been furloughed in November, 1895, I would state that the Secretary of the Treasury having directed the suspension of the coinage of the silver dollars from bullion purchased under the Act of July 14th 1890, the appropriation for the loss on worn and uncurrent silver coin transferred from the Treasury to the Mint for recoinage being exhausted, there was no work for the Mint to do and therefore nearly all the force and especially the Coiner's Department were furloughed February 1st, 1896.

Referring to the letter of the Superintendent of the Mint of the same date, calling attention to the fact that the appropriation for Wages of Workmen and Contingent Expenses for the fiscal year 1898 were largely reduced by the Bill making appropriations for Legislative, Executive and Judicial Expenses of the Government for the fiscal year 1898. I would say that the stock of silver bullion purchased under the Act of July 14th 1890, will probably all be consumed in the coinage of silver dollars by the first of September next at the latest, and there will be only a small amount of uncurrent silver coin that can be transferred to the Mint at New Orleans for recoinage.

The amount of gold deposits at New Orleans, averages from $200,000 to $250,000 a year, which you will perceive is not sufficient to continue operations.

It is for these reasons the appropriations were reduced.

Respectfully yours,
R. E. Preston,
Director of the Mint.

Vice President, United States.

Dear Sir:

Your letter of the 27th instant, recommending Miss Annie B. Koons for a position in the Mint at Philadelphia has been received and referred to the Superintendent of that Institution, in whom the law vests appointments.

RG104 E-235 Vol 82

I would say that the positions in the Philadelphia Mint are included in the classified service, but as soon as it becomes necessary to have an examination for adjusters, the positions occupied by ladies, Miss Koons will be notified by the Superintendent.

Respectfully yours,
R. E. Preston,
Director of the Mint.

F. W. Hammely, Esq.,
No. 821 Connolton Alley,
Canton, Ohio.

Sir:

In reply to your letter of the 28th instant, you are respectfully informed that no change in the composition of the five-cent nickel pieces or the one-cent bronze pieces can be made until it is authorized by Congress, which will probably not be done, if at all, for some time to come.

The Mints have no trouble whatever in stamping coins of pure nickel from steel dies.

Respectfully yours,
R. E. Preston,
Director of the

Sir:

Your letter of the 27th instant requesting that a blank application for position in the Assay

Office at New York be mailed Henry Hamel, has been received and referred to the Civil Service Commission, as Mr. Hamel would be required to take an examination before he could be appointed.

Respectfully yours,
R. E. Preston,
Director of the Mint.

Miss Estella Ray,
Norbeck, Montgomery Co., Md.

Miss:

In reply to your letter of the 29th instant, you are respectfully informed that the Government pays no premium for any coins.

There were about one and one-half million five cent nickel pieces coined in 1883, without the word "cents".

Respectfully yours,
R. E. Preston,
Director of the Mint.

Sir:

The Representative of the Treasury Department at the Tennessee Centennial Exposition, informs me that he has made a contract with the Executive Committee of the Exposition which calls for the striking of a medal about the size of a half dollar.

Upon the receipt of your letter of recent date, stating that the press you would furnish could strike a medal of the size of a quarter dollar only, I communicated with the Superintendent of the Mint at New Orleans, requesting him to inform me whether the press used in striking half dollars for that Institution could not be spared for the Tennessee Exposition. In reply he stated that they have three presses, one of which the arch is cracked, and the other two are required for the current coinage. Hence it is impracticable to obtain a press from that Mint.

I will thank you to go over the ground carefully again, and see whether it is not possible for you to spare a press that will strike a medal the size of the half-dollar. An early reply is solicited.

Sir:

In the award made for supplies for Your Mint for the fiscal year, 1893, was that for 125,000 pounds of ingot copper to Joseph Friedenstein at $0.11,64 per pound. It appears that no copper was bought of Mr. Friedenstein during the fiscal year 1893, and he has brought suit in the Court of Claims for $2,816.57 which sum, he alleges is the loss caused him by the Government failing to purchase the copper which he contracted to supply the Mint.

I will thank you to cause the records of your Mint to be searched and furnish me by return mail, if practicable, copies of any correspondence that passed between the Mint and Mr. Friedenstein prior to the date the Superintendent awarded the contract to him. It is very desirable to be informed whether it was specifically stated by the Superintendent of the Mint, that 125,000 pounds of ingot copper would be required during the fiscal year 1893. The examination of the accounts of your Mint shows that copper costing $237. was purchased during the fiscal year, 1893, and this from the Baltimore Copper Smelting & Rolling Co.

Secretary of the Treasury.

Sir:

It is respectfully requested that a transfer be made from the Bullion Fund of the United States Mint at Denver, to that of the United States Mint at Philadelphia, of the sum of Ninety-seven Thousand Seven Hundred and Forty-four $\frac{70}{100}$ Dollars ($97,744.70) in Gold Coin, and Sixty-six $\frac{36}{100}$ Dollars ($66.36) in Silver Coin, making a total of Ninety-seven Thousand Eight Hundred and Eleven $\frac{06}{100}$ Dollars ($97,811.06)

being the net value of Bullion heretofore forwarded by the Assayer in charge of the United States Mint at Denver, as shown by Memorandum No. 49 dated April 7, 1897, of Gold Bullion deposited at said Mint.

Respectfully yours,
R. E. Preston,
Director of the Mint.

April 10, 1897.

To the Honorable
Secretary of the Treasury.

Sir:

Referring to your reference of the sixth instant, of the letter of the Attorney General, asking for additional information in regard to the suit of Joseph Friedenstein vs. the United States in the Court of Claims, I have the honor to enclose herewith schedule of the various supplies required for the use of the Mint at Philadelphia for the fiscal year ended June 30th 1893, for which proposals were invited by public advertisement. An examination of the schedule, class 2, states the amount of copper that would be required at 125,000 pounds, more or less.

The contract, as stated in my letter of March 11th 1897, was awarded by the Superintendent of the Mint with the approval of the Director, to Joseph Friedenstein at $0.11,44 per pound. An examination of the advertisement calling for the proposals does not state the amount of copper that would be required, that appearing only in the printed schedule enclosed, copies of which were furnished the bidders. No copper was purchased from Mr. Friedenstein during the fiscal year 1893, but 2,000 pounds of a special brand were purchased in June 1893, from the Baltimore Copper, Smelting & Rolling Co., at $0.11,85 per pound.

I submit herewith copy of a letter addressed by Mr. Friedenstein to the Superintendent of the Mint at Philadelphia, under date of January 5th 1893, and a copy of the reply thereto, under date of January 7th 1893, in which Mr. Friedenstein was notified by the Superintendent that, owing to the suspension of the coinage of the standard silver dollars, no copper would be required unless the resumption of such coinage was authorized.

The average monthly price of Lake copper per pound, at New York, from May 1892 to June 30th 1893, was as follows:-

1892.		1893.
May	$0.11,625	January	$0.12,125
June	11,875	February	12,000
July	11,500	March	11,875
August	11,500	April	11,375
September	11,125	May	11,000
October	11,500	June	11,000
November	11,875
December	12,375

The letter and enclosure of the Attorney General are returned herewith.

Respectfully yours,
R. E. Preston,
Director of the Mint.

To the Honorable,
Secretary of the Treasury.

Sir:

Under date of January 27th 1897, I had the honor to request an appropriation of five thousand dollars ($5,000.) be procured to supply a deficiency in the appropriation for "Freight on Bullion between the Mints and Assay Offices" for the fiscal year 1897, which sum will be inadequate for the following reasons:

First, since this estimate was submitted, a transfer of twenty million dollars in gold bullion has been made from the Assay Office at New York to the Mint at Philadelphia, the express charges on which were $8,009.48, and from the further fact that the deposits of gold bullion at the receiving institutions, especially that of the Mint at Denver, continue to increase.

I estimate that it will be necessary that an appropriation of twelve thousand dollars ($12,000) be procured instead of five thousand dollars ($5,000.) to supply the deficiency in the appropriation for "Freight on Bullion between the Mints and Assay Offices", for the current fiscal year.

During the month of March 1896, the shipments of gold bullion from the minor Assay Offices to the Mint at Philadelphia amounted to $449,187., while for the month of March 1897, the shipments aggregated $826,000. The shipments for the months of April, May and June, I estimate will approximate one million dollars per month.

Referring to your letter of the 26th ultimo in regard to transferring eight million silver dollars to the vaults in the Post Office building for storage, I have to request that you will advise me when you propose to commence making the transfer as it will be necessary to obtain authority from the Secretary of the Treasury for the use of one of the elevators to hoist the coins to the second story of the building in which the vaults are located.

I am of the opinion that we must employ the United States Express Company to transport this coin from the Mint to the Post Office building as by the terms of the contract they are made the exclusive agents for the transportation of public monies and securities. The expenses of transportation should be paid from the appropriation contained in the Act of July 14th 1890, for the storage of silver bullion and silver dollars.

Miss:-

In reply to your letter you are respectfully informed that the Mints cannot receive either gold or silver in the form of ore, but the bullion must be separated from the ore before it can be received at the Mints.

I infer from your letter that you have simply specimens of ore of gold and silver.

The Government does not pay premiums on any coins whatever, and in order to ascertain the premium, if any, on a one-cent piece coined in 1852, you would have to make application to some coin dealer or collector.

Respectfully yours,
R. E. Preston,

In this connection I will say that, no other institution in the Mint service has ever forwarded its Abstract sheets to the Bureau in such an incomplete condition as yours of the March Quarter and, if it were not that the Bureau is in haste to have the Bullion Accounts for the said Quarter examined and forwarded to the Auditor for settlement, your Accounts would be returned for proper adjustment.

I wish to impress upon you the fact that it is not the business of this Bureau to make out your Abstract sheets, but only to examine and pass upon their correctness.

In future please see that all Accounts rendered this Bureau are prepared in proper shape for such examination and settlement.

If sent to the former a draft on the Assistant Treasurer at Chicago will be sent you in payment and if sent to the latter a draft on the Assistant Treasurer at St. Louis.

If you wish to receive coin in return it would be necessary for you to send the gold you have to the Mint at Philadelphia.

Respectfully yours,
R. E. Preston,
Director of the Mint.

In reply to your letter of the 17th instant, you are respectfully informed that if a silver dollar were so mutilated that the figures and letters on it were obliterated by acids or other means, it would be treated simply as bullion. If its form had not been destroyed however, the character of the coin could in a measure be determined by the size and assay of the same.

If you have a piece of silver of this character, by forwarding it to this Bureau, you will receive full information.

After mature reflection and canvassing the matter in all its various aspects, I have decided, in order to ascertain the gold and silver contents of lead ores, base bullion and copper matte, imported into the United States to have samples of such importations assayed in the laboratory of this Bureau.

I find the appropriations for the support of your office will not admit of the employment of any additional help for this purpose. You will therefore forward the samples you now have on hand to this Bureau by express as early as practicable.

I have requested the Secretary of the Treasury to cause the samples hereafter forwarded regularly to this Bureau.

April 23, 1897.

To the Honorable
Secretary of the Treasury.

Sir:

I have the honor to state that owing to the large amount of work, due to the number of deposits that the Assayer of the United States Assay Office at New York is required to handle, it has been found impracticable to continue to assay samples of base lead and copper bullion and ores at that institution with a view of determining the gold and silver contents of the assays.

I have therefore to respectfully request that the Collectors of Customs at the Port of New York, Newark and Perth Amboy, be instructed in future to forward the samples heretofore delivered to the Assay Office at New York to this Bureau, where assays of the same will be made in the Laboratory, and the gold and silver contents determined.

In this connection, I would respectfully suggest the propriety of determining also the lead, copper and zinc contents of these importations in the Laboratory of this Bureau, as a check upon the assays made in New York. If you should think favorably of this, instructions should be given that the results of assays made at the Custom Houses should be reported to you for the purpose of comparison with the assays made by this Bureau.

In reply to your letter of the 20th instant, you are respectfully informed that assays of ores are not made in this Bureau.

RG104 E-235 Vol 82

You can have assays made of gold or silver at the U. S. Assay Office at Charlotte, North Carolina, at a charge of three dollars for each assay. It is probable, however, that if you were to forward a specimen of the ore referred to, to this Bureau it could be readily ascertained upon examination, whether it would be worth your while to go to the expense of having an assay made.

Sir:

Referring to your letter of the 23rd instant, inclosing a copy of the letter received by you from the Mossberg & Granville Mfg. Co. offering to furnish your Mint with one large breaking down mill with rolls 15" in diameter and 10" face, fitted with Mossberg patent roller bearings and equipped with all necessary adjustments, and also a finishing mill with steel rolls 5"x5", equipped with roller bearings and special adjustments for finishing, for the sum of thirty three hundred and fifty dollars net ($3,350.), you are authorized to accept the offer of the Mossberg & Granville Mfg. Co., stipulating in the contract that no payment is to be made until the mills have been tested by a trial of at least thirty days, and if not satisfactory, the Mossberg & Granville Mfg. Co., are to remove the same, and replace the old machinery without any charge whatever to the Government.

Enclosed please find bill in duplicate for transportation of a shipment of copper from the railroad station to your mint made under a contract with the Quarter-master Generals Department. The rate charged seems to be reasonable and I will thank you to investigate the matter and pay the bill if found to be correct. You will observe that the bill seems in every respect similar to the one returned to you by the Auditor for the Treasury for payment about the 17th or 18th of February last and the services were rendered by the same person.

Sir:-

On reply to your letter of the 22nd instant, in reference to striking a medal for the citizens of British birth to be sold for the benefit of the British Hospital in your city, I wired you today that Section 3551 of the Revised Statutes limits the manufacture of medals to the Mint at Philadelphia, which I now confirm.

If it were permissable to strike these medals at your Mint I do not believe it would be advisable to strike them of the same size and certainly not of the same fineness as the half-dollar; the silver medals struck at the Mint at Philadelphia are about 990 fine.

If this work could be legally done at your institution I should have no objection to the medals being struck.

Sir:

In reply to your letter of the 24th instant, you are respectfully informed that the head on the standard silver dollar or, in fact on any of our coins, is a representation of Liberty. The little "m" which you observe on the lower edge of the neck of the figure of Liberty on the silver dollar is the initial letter of the designer of the coin, (George Morgan) an Engraver in the Mint, Philadelphia. The wreath is olive, and is intended to represent Peace.

Charles D. Walcott, Esq.,
Director, U. S. Geological Survey.

Sir:

I have delayed answering your letter of the 29th ultimo in the hope that I could be able to give you the final figures of the production of gold and silver in Idaho for 1896, but I will not be able to do so for a week or ten days.

According to an estimate of Mr. F. F. Church, Assayer in Charge of the U. S. Assay Office at Boise City, Idaho, the gold product for the State of Idaho for the calendar year 1896, was 112,409 fine ounces of the value of $2,323,700. He estimates the product of Boise County to have been 15,770 ounces of the value of $325,995. He gives no separate estimates of particular districts.

The estimates of the Director of the Mint on the production of the precious metals has always been confined to the total product of a State and no estimate has been made by this Bureau of the product of any particular county or district, and figures that will be furnished you in the course of ten days will be the total product of the State.

Respectfully yours,
R. E. Preston,
Director of the Mint.

John Daggett, Esq.,

Sir:

Referring to your letter of the 22nd ultimo, in reference to the appointment of Laborers, I would say that you can employ temporarily such Laborers as may be absolutely necessary for the conduct of the work at your Mint, but owing to the fact that the gold coinage for some months past at your Mint has been comparatively small, and the further fact that at the present rate of coinage the amount of silver bullion, purchased under the Act of July 14th, 1890, on hand at your Mint will be consumed within the next six months, I think it very advisable that the force to be employed should be restricted to the absolute requirements, as when the silver purchased under the

RG104 E-235 Vol 82

Act of July 14th 1890, is coined, it will be necessary to dispense with part of the force employed at your Institution.

Overton Cade, Esq.,
Superintendent, U. S. Mint,
New Orleans, La.

Sir:

I enclose herewith four quarter dollars, coined at your Mint, and I desire particularly to invite your attention to the manner in which these coins are milled and reeded.

From inspection it is perfectly clear that the imperfect milling and reeding is all due to the failure on the part of the Coiner or his Assistant to exercise proper supervision over the coining room as well as to the carelessness on the part of the Foreman and the Machinist.

I will thank you to call the attention of the Coiner to this matter without delay, that he may take steps hereafter to see that no coins that are imperfectly milled and reeded such as these enclosed, be permitted to leave the Mint. You will please return one dollar in currency for the coins enclosed.

Respectfully yours,

May 12, 1897.

To the Honorable
Secretary of the Treasury.

Sir:

I have the honor to state, that owing to the large amount of work, due to the number of deposits that the Assayer of the United States Assay Office at New York is required to handle, it has been found impracticable to continue to assay samples of base lead and copper bullion and ores at that institution with a view of determining the gold and silver contents of the same.

I have therefore to respectfully request that the Collectors of Customs at the Ports of New York, Newark and Perth Amboy, be instructed in future to forward the samples heretofore delivered to the Assay Office at New York to this Bureau, where assays of the same will be made in the Laboratory, and the gold and silver contents determined.

In this connection, I would respectfully suggest the propriety of determining also the lead, copper and zinc contents of these importations in the Laboratory of this Bureau, as a check upon the assays made in New York. If you should think favorably of this, instructions should be given that the results of assays made at the Custom Houses should be reported to you for the purpose of comparison with the assays made by this Bureau.

Director of the Mint.

Andrew Mason, Esq.,
Superintendent U.S. Assay Office,
New York, N.Y.

Sir:-

In comparing the figures in the Statement enclosed in your letter of January 27, 1897, showing the domestic and foreign gold exports from the port of New York, for the calendar year 1896, with the statements, for the same period, furnished this Bureau by the Collector of Customs at New York, I find such a vast difference that I should be pleased to have you examine and compare the figures hereto annexed and report the facts in the matter at your earliest convenience.

The total difference between your figures and the Collector's is $1,303,621, and the items in which this difference occurs are as follows:-

Gold Exports.

Items	Collector's Figures	Assay Office Figures	Difference
Foreign coin,	$ 1,565,483	$ 1,584,627	$ 19,144
United States coin,	32,157,290	32,745,902	588,612
Mint & Assay Office bars,	9,550,516	17,069,259	7,518,743
Other bars,	6,838,527	15,649	6,822,878
Total	$50,111,816	$51,415,437

In the above (Collector's figures), it seems almost incredible that nearly seven million dollars were exported in bars other than Mint or Assay Office and I wish to call your attention to these shipments, for the months of May and June especially.

The differences in the above figures occur in the following items:-

Foreign coin $19.44-

Shipments.	Collector's figures.	Assay Office figures.
England	$ ———	$ 18,444
Mexico, etc.	294,153	294,853
Total	$ 294,153	$313,297

United States coin $588,612:-

Shipments.	Collector's figures.	Assay Office figures.
England,	$ 350,000	$ 2,400,300
Germany.	26,128,575	24,678,575
France,	2,000,300	2,000,300
Mexico, etc.	3,678,215	3,666,327
Total	$ 32,157,290	$ 32,745,902

Differences Continued:-

Mint and Assay Office bars $7,518,743:-

Shipments.	Collector's figures.	Assay Office figures.
England	$ 9,550,516	$ 9,548,767
Germany	———	2,316,341
France	———	5,204,151
Total	$ 9,550,516	$17,069,259

Other bars $6,822,878:-

England	$ 16,400	4,749
Germany	2,322,001	5,780
France	4,3.00,126	———
Mexico, etc.	———	5,120
Total	$ 6,838,527	$ 15,649

Sir:

In reply to inquiries contained in your communication of the 6th instant, relative to charges that should be imposed on deposit of Gold "Mint bar" I have to say that, had the bar in question been deposited at the Philadelphia Mint, no charge would have been imposed except an alloy charge, but, having been deposited at your Institution, you are not obliged to accept the weight and fineness stamped on the bar as correct, and therefore, to protect yourself, should weigh and assay the bar by clipping. It would not be necessary to melt the bar, for, when shipped to the Philadelphia Mint it would be received without melting or the imposing of a melting charge. Hence, the charges that should be imposed on the deposit in question, would be an "Assay and Stamping" and an "Alloy" charge. (See Secs. #4 and #5, Art. 5, Instructions and Regulations.

Sir:

The Postmaster General has decided upon having a silver medal struck to present to the members of the Fifth Univeral Postal Congress, now in session in this city. The medal to be struck of the same size as that of the Nashville Exposition medal. Upon the obverse is to be the head of Washington and on the reverse the following inscription,- "Members of Fifth Universal Postal Congress, Washington, 1897." The same to be surrounded by a wreath. The head of Washington selected by the Committee is that of Washington on the small allegiance medal struck in silver in 1861, and which is returned you today.

I will thank you to have the Engraver of your Mint prepare sketches and forward the same, that they may be submitted to the Postmaster General and the Committee for their approval. It is very desirable that this medal should be prepared without delay in order that the same may be presented to the members of the Postal Congress before their departure from Washington which will be in the course of five or six weeks.

Sir:

I have examined and referred to the proper accounting officers of the Department, for examination and settlement, your Bullion accounts for the Quarter ending March 31, 1897, with my approval. Your attention is respectfully invited to several Gold deposits during this Quarter (between 90 & 100 nearly all of which were made by one person), in which the fineness of Silver predominates and, therefore, should be classed as Deposits of Silver Bullion:- Art. 1, Sec. 3, "Instructions and Regulations."

Sir:

Enclosed herewith please find copy of a letter addressed by the Assistant Treasurer at New York to the Secretary of the Treasury recommending that hereafter all checks issued by you have stamped upon them "Payable only by Treasurer, U. S. Washington, D. C. if not collected within 10 days from date."

The recommendation of the Assistant Treasurer has been approved by the Secretary of the Treasury, and referred to this Bureau with instructions to have the same carried into effect. You will, without delay, procure a small rubber stamp, and will stamp all checks issued by you in payment of deposits as requested. It is very desirable that you should be particular at first, to call the attention of parties to the checks so issued with these requirements.

Respectfully yours,
R. E. Preston,
Director of the Mint.

Sir:

Your letter of the 14th instant to the Comptroller of the Treasury has been referred to this Bureau. In reply you are respectfully informed that no fifty dollar gold pieces were ever coined by the Mints of the United States.

Prior to the establishment of the Mint at San Francisco, private Assayers in that city, issued discs, octagonal and round in shape, of the value of fifty dollars. These bore the imprint of the Assayer, guaranteeing the weight and fineness, but anyone receiving them, did so at their own risk.

Respectfully yours,

Director of the Mint.

Sir:

In reply to your letter of the 17th instant, you are respectfully informed that coin referred to was not in that condition when paid out from the Mint, as it is not probable a coin so imperfect would have escaped detection. In fact one of the first things done when the dies are placed in the press is to strike two or three pieces, for the purpose of ascertaining that they work properly.

I cannot give you any more positive information as to how the two heads appear on the coin without having the same for examination. If you will forward it to this Bureau by registered mail, it will be examined and returned to you or if found genuine, its value returned.

Sir:

In reply to your letter of the 17th instant, you are respectfully informed that seigniorage, as applied to the silver coins of the United States, is the difference between the cost of the silver contained in such coins and their face value. For instance, the average cost of the silver bullion, purchased under the Act of July 14th, 1890, was $0.92,44 per ounce fine. At this rate the cost of the silver contained in a dollar (371 1/4 grains) would be ($0.71 1/2) giving a seigniorage or profit on each dollar coined of $0.28 1/2. The first seigniorage, arising from the coinage of silver was on the subsidiary silver coin authorized by the Act of February 21, 1853, when the weight of the half-dollar, quarter dollar and dime were reduced about seven percent, and in which it was provided that the coinage of these pieces should be on Government account, from bullion purchased for that purpose.

I am unable without examining the old accounts for a series of years to determine the date of the first payment of seigniorage into the Treasury. The letter enclosed by you is returned herewith.

Respectfully yours,
R. E. Preston,
Director of the Mint.

In the recapitulation sheet of Alaska, sent you, please omit the section of Hunter Bay, and add the amount $16,000, to that from Admiralty, Douglas and Unga Island, as Hunter Bay is on Admiralty Island.

The reason of the grouping of the three islands is that the Apollo Cons. Mine is the only one on Unga Island, and the amount of product would be naturally credited to that Company. The owners here in San Francisco prefer that the amount of their product shall not be made public.

Very respectfully,
Chas. G. Gale,

Mrs. M. V. Cowan,
Corona, Alabama.

Sir:

In reply to your letter of the 20th instant, you are respectfully informed that it is not at all likely that you would receive twenty dollars in return for a gold ring that cost that amount, if deposited at one of the Mints of the United States.

It is probable you would receive from ten to twelve dollars only. You could forward the ring to the Superintendent of the Mint at Philadelphia who would return you its coining value whatever sum that might be.

Respectfully yours,
R. E. Preston,
Director of the Mint.

Sir:

In reply to your letter of the 15th instant, you are respectfully informed that the total gold and silver coinage from January first to May first, 1897, was as follows:

Gold	40,526,720.
Silver Dollars	5,952,250.
Subsidiary Silver	685,597.15

The object in coining silver dollars is for the purpose of having a sufficient amount on hand to enable the Secretary of the Treasury to redeem any Notes issued for the purchase of silver bullion under the Act of July 14th 1890, that may be presented for redemption.

Of the silver purchased under the Act of July 14th 1890, there were on hand May 1st 1897, 117,662,173 fine ounces, costing $106,303,562; coining value of the same in silver dollars being $152,128,870.

May 27, 1897.

E. P. Baldwin, Esq.,
Auditor for the Treasury Department.

Sirs:

On the adjustment of the account of Thomas J. Hobbs, Disbursing Clerk for contingent expenses, office of the Director of the Mint, 1897, from December 1st 1896 to March 31st 1897, the following suspension was made:

Amount paid D. K. Tuttle, "preparing the article descriptive of the chlorination and cyanide process for extracting the precious metals in parting and refining bullion, for the report of the Director of the Mint on the production of gold and silver, voucher six, December 1, 1896. ——— $100.-

The ground for the suspension of this item appears to be due to the fact that Mr. Tuttle is a salaried officer of the Government (Melter & Refiner of the Mint of the U. S. at Philadelphia), and therefore the payment is in violation of Section 1765, Revised Statutes of the United States.

In explanation I would say that the preparation of this article was entirely foreign and had no connection whatever, with Mr. Tuttle's official duties as Melter and Refiner.

The Director of the Mint prepares and publishes for each calendar year, a report on the production of the precious metals, and it was for this report the article in question was prepared by Dr. Tuttle. The improvements in the extraction of the precious metals by the Cyanide and Chlorination processes have attracted much attention within the last four years and many inquiries have been received by the Bureau of the Mint for information in regard to the same. With a view to furnishing intelligent information on the subject the article was prepared. Before employing Dr. Tuttle, four different parties were asked to prepare an article of this character and the compensation demanded ranged from $250. to $400. It was only after much importuning that Dr. Tuttle consented to prepare the article and then with the understanding that he was to receive a compensation of $100.

RG104 E-235 Vol 82

In view of the fact that the preparation of this article could in no sense be considered as a part of Dr. Tuttle's duties as Melter & Refiner of the Mint, it being prepared by him outside of office hours at his own residence, I trust that the same will be allowed in the account of the Disbursing officer.

The appropriation for the collection of mining statistics expressly stipulates that the same is to be disbursed upon the approval of the Director of the Mint. This, however, would be no excuse for his authorizing payment if he did not conceive it to be proper.

Respectfully yours,
R. E. Preston,
Director of the Mint.

Hon. E. O. Leech,
National Union Bank,
No 32 Nassau Street, New York.

My dear Mr. Leech:

In reply to your letters of the 17th and 26th instant, I would say that the statements you refer to, as published in the Secretary's report for 1890, have not been compiled since that date.

On September 1893, the Comptroller of the Treasury rendered a decision that the gross profits on the coinage of silver bullion purchased under the Act of July fourteenth, 1890, must be paid into the Treasury without deduction. Since that date no bills for the transportation of silver dollars for the Mints have been paid from the Silver Profit Fund, and no record has been kept in the Treasury Department showing whether the amount paid for the transportation of silver coin was on dollars or subsidiary silver.

I regret that I am unable to give you the information you wish.

Respectfully yours,
R. E. Preston,
Director of the Mint.

Hon. Benjamin Butterworth,
Commissioner of Patents,
United States Patent Office,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

I return herewith the protest of W. H. Singleton, attorney for E. C. Brice, against the report of the Commission which recently investigated Brice's process for creating gold and silver from base metals, with the statement that the Commission will take no further notice of Mr. Brice's process.

Respectfully yours,
R. E. Preston,
Director of the Mint.

June 1, 1897.

Hon. E. O. Leech,
National Union Bank,
No. 32 Nassau Street, New York, N. Y.

Sir:

Your letter of the 28th ultimo received, and in reply I enclose herewith Department Circular No. 162, which will give you the desired information in regard to the issue and redemption of currency.

In reply to your second and third questions, I have to state that the expense of transporting silver coin is paid from a specific appropriation made by Congress.

Respectfully yours,
R. E. Preston,
Director of the Mint.

R. P. Rothwell, Esq.,
Editor of "The Engineering & Mining Journal",
No. 253 Broadway, New York, N.Y.

Sir:

I have received your letter of the 29th ultimo, and thank you for the same. I am inclined to think there is little gold or silver that goes through the Custom House either in ore or bullion, but what we get a record of, and ascertain its value.

In your statement of the production of gold and silver in the United States for 1896, as published in your Journal of the 29th ultimo, you state the production of gold to have been $58,660,637, and of silver 58,222,323 fine ounces. According to the figures prepared in this Bureau the production of gold in 1896 approximates closely $53,000,000 and of silver 57,700,000 fine ounces. We have returns from every private smelting and refining establishment in the United States, giving their product from domestic as well as foreign ores, also showing the disposition of same. In addition to this we have complete accounts of the foreign and domestic bullion deposited at the Mints and Assay Offices which goes to complete the figures given above.

I feel confident our figures are approximately correct.

Respectfully yours,
R. E. Preston,
Director of the Mint.

Sir:

Referring to my telegram of current date, in reference to the price to be charged for the silver in the medals for delegates to the commercial convention, I would say that I find upon examination that the silver you have on hand, purchased for subsidiary silver coinage cost .669+ per fine ounce, and I thought it nothing more than fair to add to this rate an amount sufficient to cover the loss in manufacture, for this reason I fixed the price to be paid at seventy cents (.70¢) per ounce fine.

Sir:

In reply to your letter of the 28th ultimo, you are respectfully informed that the medal to which you refer is what is known as the Indian Peace medal, and was struck during the Presidency of James Madison.

It has been customary since the Presidency of Washington to strike these medals in silver, and present them to the principal chiefs of any tribe upon the conclusion of a treaty, and they always bore the likeness of the President in office at the time the treaty was made. Aside from this, they have been presented for some meritorious deed performed by some Indian.

The medal has little value aside from its bullion value as silver. The value depending entirely upon its condition.

June 7, 1897.

To the Honorable
Secretary of the Treasury.

Sir:

Owing to the death of Mr. F. F. Claussen, a vacancy exists in the position of Assayer of the Mint of the United States at New Orleans. Mr. William M. Lynch, who has been the Assistant Assayer at that Institution since 1884, is an applicant for the appointment as Assayer.

I have known Mr. Lynch since 1874, and have no hesitancy in recommending his appointment to the position, as he is in every way qualified. He entered the Mint service as an assistant in the Assay Department of the Mint at Carson City, Nevada, in 1875, and continued there until 1884, when he was transferred and appointed Assistant Assayer of the Mint at New Orleans, solely on account of his qualifications. He is about forty-five or six years old.

Respectfully yours,
R. E. Preston,
Director of the Mint.
